

Jodi Stanfield

Senior Counsel

E jodi.stanfield@faberlawgroup.com

P (781) 795 4710

Jodi provides Faber's clients with years of contract experience and skill.

Her background as in-house counsel for an international contract research firm makes her adept at helping clients navigate contract matters for clinical trials, especially when it comes to international studies. She handles clinical trial and related agreements involving complex issues with multiple stakeholders, as well as sponsor-CRO and master services agreements for life sciences clients. Jodi also advises clients on supply chain and licensing matters and on standardized agreement terms.

BAR ADMISSIONS

California

EDUCATION

University of California, Davis
School of Law, J.D.
San Jose State University, B.S., summa cum laude

Experience

Senior Legal Counsel

PSI CRO AG, a global contract research organization

- Worked with internal teams and pharmaceutical and medical device clients to conclude clinical trial and related agreements in countries all over the world
- Managed internal compliance issues, training and advised on general legal issues

Commercial Litigation Association

Morgan Lewis & Bockius LLP

- Represented clients on a number of complex commercial matters

Client Work

- Assisted several clients with customized template development for large, complex ex-US clinical trials, including clinical trial agreement forms for Asia, Europe and Africa
- Lead Attorney for Entasis Therapeutics Inc.'s CS2514-2017-0004 clinical study
- Negotiated clinical services agreements, including Software as a Service agreements with multiple CROs/service providers for clinical studies in Europe and the U.S.
- Assisted several mature biopharmaceutical companies in developing agreement forms for use with GMP services providers, including clinical development and manufacturing agreements. Negotiated clinical development and manufacturing agreements and other GMP services agreements counter to various CMOs
- Negotiated Investigator-initiated Research Agreements (involving multiple drug companies and multiple drug products within the same agreement) with large healthcare organizations in Australia and Europe