

Emma Phillips

Associate

emma.phillips@faberlawgroup.com
781 419 9604 direct

Emma Phillips works alongside her Faber team to assist drug development clients with the contracting involved in their R&D process. While at University of Richmond School of Law, she focused her education on transactional coursework and worked at a small, client-focused firm. Through her experiences, she was able to develop skills in contract drafting and creative problem solving. Emma spent her time in law school working as an Articles Editor for the Richmond Journal of Law and Technology, where she was able to explore her passion for life sciences and biotechnology and keep her finger on the pulse of emerging legal trends within the industry.

EXPERIENCE

Boleman Law Firm

Intern

Union County Superior Court, New Jersey

Judicial intern

COMMUNITY

During her time in law school, Emma was an Articles Editor for the Journal of Law and Technology, a member of the Technology Law Society, an active member of Richmond Women's Law, and student body Vice President.

Bar Admissions

- Massachusetts (pending)

Education

- University of Richmond School of Law, JD
- Tufts University, BA in Political Science

